

About Renee L. Bailey

Renee L. Bailey is a Support Specialist/Student Services for Connect. She has been with Connect since 2013.

In addition to providing general student software support, she conducts end user training, creates custom SQL-based reports and customizations in PowerSchool. She attends the annual Midwest PowerSchool User Group meeting and has been honing her development skills at PowerSchool University.

Prior to working at Connect, she worked for ten years with the Westlake City School District. During her last seven years with Westlake, she served as the District Technology Coordinator, where she was responsible for the Technology budget and Technology Plan, overseeing a team of three in the area of hardware and software maintenance and support, and assisting with the coordination and delivery of technology professional development for staff. She supported the Director of Curriculum and Testing with Instructional Technology pursuits and grant writing, and worked on the grant writing team that was awarded a half-million dollar K-8 STEM Program of Excellence grant from the Ohio Board of Regents/Ohio Partnership for Continued Learning – the only one awarded in Northeast Ohio. She was highly involved in the implementation and support of PowerSchool in the District, and elected to accept the position with Connect as an opportunity to help other districts with effective use of Student Information Systems and data analysis to improve student achievement.

Along with studying ballet and running, Renee enjoys spending family time camping with her husband, Bill, four children, and their Goldendoodle, Linus.
